ORDER OF CARABAO
SATIRESWhich Occurred at Annual Dinner of Society to be Investigated

IS PRESIDENT'S ORDER

Army and Navy Officers
Who Served in the Philippines Members of the Organization—Many Notables Were Present.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Dec. 15.—President Wilson today ordered an investigation by the war department and navy department of the satires on the administration's Philippine policy which featured the annual banquet last Thursday of the Order of Carabao, an organization of army and navy officers who served on the island. President Wilson suggested to Secretaries Garrison and Daniels reprimands for those responsible.

Secretaries Daniels and Garrison conferred early today and called for a statement of explanation from Rear Admiral Howard and Quartermaster General Aleshaire, the highest ranking officers at the dinner.

Secretary Daniels at the same time suggested to Admiral Howard that he decline the presidency of the order to which he was elected last Thursday and informed him that the song, "Damn, Damn, Damn, The Insurrectos," which was sung at the banquet would never be sung again under the present administration with officers of the navy present.

The president expressed his indignation to members of his cabinet after he had read published accounts of the banquet. He felt particularly displeased over the travesty on the administration's peace policy and criticisms aimed at Secretary of State Bryan when three six-foot models of battleships, borne by concealed boys, were carried into the banquet room. In the muzzle of the guns were stuck nosegays and the milk-white dove was perched on each fighting top. They were named "U. S. S. Fellowship," "U. S. S. Friendship," "U. S. S. Piffle." Another satire was a moving picture film of a three-year pursuit of a Filipino colonel, who time and again escaping capture and hardly had been apprehended when he was made governor of the province.

The performance, according to advance statements given out by the Carabao Society was designed to show the "lack of sympathy for recent developments and tendencies in Philippine government."

President Wilson himself was not satirized by the diners but he made it plain to his associates that he felt keenly the burlesque on members of his cabinet. Secretary Daniels and Secretary Garrison shared the president's feeling in the matter. Secretary Daniels said today that he left the dinner immediately after making his speech in order to keep another engagement and that the song, "Damn, Damn, Damn, The Insurrectos," was particularly offensive to him.

Secretary Daniels said that had he known the song, "Damn, Damn, Damn, The Insurrectos" was to have been sung, he would have asked it to be omitted, and had that not been done, he would have declined to attend the dinner.

News of the proposed investigation fell like a bombshell in army and navy circles. Rear Admiral Howard told Mr. Daniels today that they had sung, "Damn, Damn, Damn, The Insurrectos" for 13 years and had not met with any objection. Secretary Daniels pointed out that officers of the army and navy who would be expected to support the administration's policy could not be permitted to ridicule it.

Mr. Daniels was inclined to take in consideration that the function was intended as one of jollity and good natured fun but was amazed that copies of the songs with descriptions of the travesties were given out in advance and no effort was made to keep the affair a private one.

Secretaries Daniels, Redfield and Postmaster General Burleson, Justice Vardeventer and McKenna of the United States supreme court were among the guests. Major General Wood did not attend.

KOCH MURDER
TRIAL BEGINS
AT RUTLAND, VT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Rutland, Vt., Dec. 15.—Efforts to show that William Koch shot Chas. Gordon in self defense formed the line of defense in the trial of Koch for the murder, which began today. Gordon was killed on Nov. 9, while examining some traps on the private game preserve owned by Koch and his sister.

When arrested Koch asserted that Gordon had been a persistent poacher in his preserve and that when Koch remonstrated with him, Gordon raised a club in a threatening manner. Koch claimed that his revolver was discharged as he was raising his arm to ward off the expected blow. After the shooting Koch assisted Gordon to a boat and took him to Whitehall, N. Y., after summoning three physicians. Gordon died before the boat reached Whitehall. Koch who is a son of a wealthy New Yorker, has been a New York game warden.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE

Will Endeavor to Settle
Question of Convention and Three Divisions of Opinion are Predicted—
Boomers on the Ground.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Dec. 15.—Such members of the Republican national committee as had arrived here today indicated almost an even division of sentiment on the questions of party organization which are to be taken up in conferences beginning tomorrow.

The forces opposed to an extraordinary convention were lining up against the proposed reduction in southern representation. Some committeemen regarded it as probable that before the actual work of the committee begins tomorrow there will be three divisions of opinion. In the first will be found the national committeemen who favor the calling of a convention immediately; in the second will be those who are opposed to any convention at all and in the third will be others who are willing to have a national convention but who do not see any pressing need for it.

The first and third groups are expected to join against the second and the odds are said to be in favor of a convention. According to prediction of Chairman Hillis, the convention probably will thresh out its differences in open session and the advocates of all proposals will have an opportunity to give their arguments in public.

In addition to the members of the committee who expect to speak, Ormsby McHarg has asked for a hearing. Mr. McHarg is understood to have prepared a brief against the right of the national committee to call an extraordinary convention. Chairman Hillis said today he was not attempting the power of his position for either contention and holds to the view that it is a question to be settled by a majority of the committee.

Informal conferences between committeemen marked the day but the real work will begin tonight when the entire committee will be guests at dinner of Chairman Hillis. All factions are expected to have a clearer understanding of the situation when it is over.

Aside from purely legal arguments, one principal point against calling a national convention is being made by committeemen who do not believe use can be made of the primary machinery provided in several states for the election of delegates. Many state laws provide that elections for delegates to nominating conventions shall be held every four years. Those who favor an early convention contend that recognition of the principle of primaries by the national committee would be a sufficient guarantee of the good faith of the party.

If the committee decides tomorrow to call a convention it is highly probable that there will be some discussion of how to best reduce southern representation in future conventions. The Republican congressional committee has drawn up several tentative plans for presentation to the national committee. The plan which has met with greatest favor in the congressional committee proposes four delegates at large from each state and a number proportionate to the Republican vote cast in the election of 1908 in each congressional district.

The view that the committee may not decide to call a convention is not shared by boomers from several large cities whose representatives were on hand early today, stocked with cash and prepared to press their claims to the limit.

Among the cities contesting are Philadelphia, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, St. Louis, and Denver. The latter was on the ground with a promise of $50,000. St. Louis was said to be ready with $20,000 and other cities probably will back their attractions with money, if the situation tomorrow warrants.

Charles B. Warren of Michigan, chairman of the law, conferred at the capitol today with Senators Cummins, Nelson, Root and others, and announced that Senator Cummins had no intention of demanding that a national convention should adopt a general party platform.

MURDERER PLACED ON TRIAL.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Cincinnati, Dec. 15.—George Mundy, 38 years old, an attorney who is charged with second degree murder in the shooting of his wife was placed on trial in Common Pleas court here today. Mundy is accused of having shot and killed his wife, Leona, in a rooming house here on June 14, last.

Stenographer Blown Up With Infernal Machine

New York, Dec. 15.—Most of the detectives of the Police Department of New York City are busy hunting the man who mailed an infernal machine to the office of the O. K. Bottling company, thereby killing Miss Ida Anusewitz, stenographer for the firm. A package was left at an Adams Express company branch office by a swarthy man, who might have been a foreigner from the south of Europe.

It was addressed to William H. Callahan, head of the company. The managing salesman received it, and placed it on the stenographer's desk. Accustomed to open Mr. Callahan's mail in his absence, she cut the strings of this package. Before she had finished the explosion came. She was torn to pieces and the office wrecked. She died without regaining consciousness.

Coming after several other murders of the same kind and attempts that have failed, the police now see that more than one person has made these infernal machines. Their first thought was that business rivals sent the package intending it to kill Callahan.

Daryl A. Richards Meets a Horrible Death When Clothes Catch in Shaft

His clothing caught in a shaft making 150 revolutions every minute, Daryl A. Richards, twenty-five, was whirled to instantaneous death while at his work in the Licking Creamery at 10:40 o'clock Monday forenoon.

Richards evidently saw death approaching as his clothing wound in the whirling shaft, for he shouted just once for help. Perry Farmer and Ray Wheeler, foremen in the Creamery saw his plight instantly, and both made a jump for the engine. Wheeler reached it first and shut off the power not more than 30 seconds from the instant Richards' clothes caught.

Assistance came too late. The man's body had spun around by the shaft many times. When the machinery was stopped the body was found wrapped in a knotted mass about the shaft, while the blood-spattered ceiling and adjoining wall bore gruesome evidence of the sudden and horrible occurrence. The shafting hangs not more than 18 inches from the ceiling, yet through this small space the body had twirled until the machinery came to a full stop.

According to a statement made by officers of the company, both Farmer and Wheeler, foremen, had warned Richards not to venture near the shaft while the engine was running, which is only when the ac-crusher is being used.

Richards had been employed by the Creamery company for several months in the capacity of a laborer, and general helper. For the past few days he had been engaged in painting machinery. When he met his death he had just finished painting a shaft "hanger," or metal bracket in which he revolving shaft hangs from the ceiling.

The man had notified his employer that he expected to quit work last Saturday to leave on Monday for Bucyrus where he meant to organize a railroad work. Saturday he told his employer that owing to the illness of his wife he would continue to work here for a while.

Employees of the Creamery were in a turmoil of nervous excitement after the accident Monday.

When Richards' call for help was heard there was a general rush of employees willing to give assistance. When it was discovered that the workman was past human aid, Bazzler & Brae's ambulance was called and he was removed to the firm's undertaking rooms in North Fourth street, where Coroner W. E. Wylarch later viewed the body and announced a finding of "accidental death."

Mrs. Richards was found at her apartments, over the Newark Steam Laundry, where she and her husband lived in rooms rented from Mrs. Gail Hines. Already in such a state of health that an operation has been under contemplation, Mrs. Richards was overcome by the shock. Dr. W. E. Boyer and Dr. Carl Evans, the former her regular physician, attended her.

Mr. and Mrs. Richards came to Newark last summer from Burkeville, where there are no children, nor relatives living in Newark. Funeral arrangements had not been determined upon Monday, owing to the condition of the young widow, who was suffering severely from the shock.

Examination of Richards' body revealed the fact that his skull was crushed, neck and shoulders and both legs broken.

A great crowd of curious persons collected about the entrance to the creamery when news of the accident reached the streets, but police officers and employees of the company kept all back who did not have business within.

The accident occurred in a part of the building where cans are stored. None of the open receptacles was near the spot where the accident occurred.

Much of Richards' clothing was torn from his body by the force of the whirling shaft, and when the machinery stopped the half-nude body was found hanging by the knees in a half-sitting posture next the ceiling.

Employees of the creamery are said to be firm in their assertion that Richards took the risk of painting the shaft hanger while the machinery was running, wholly on his own responsibility.

STATE AGENT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Columbus, Dec. 15.—Budget Commissioner W. O. Hefferman today made public plans by which he hopes to create the office of state purchasing agent and to save the state thousands of dollars by buying supplies and materials for all departments of government in large quantities and low prices. In legislative action will be necessary to complete the plan, and it is improbable that this will be considered by the special session of the general assembly which will be convened January 15.

"MYSTERY SHIP" WAS LAUNCHED
AT SHIP WORKS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Glasgow, Dec. 15.—The British battle cruiser Tiger, the "mystery ship" was launched today at the Clyde Bank Shipbuilding Works where her keel plate was laid on June 26, 1912.

Details of the new vessel have been strictly guarded by the admiralty. Her engines are designed to give the Tiger an unattainable speed of 30 knots, which will eclipse that of any naval vessel afloat. Troopical reports give the Tiger's dimensions as: Length, over all 700 feet beam, 90 feet displacement 20,000 tons. Her armament is said to comprise eight 13.5 inch guns in pairs in turrets on center line and 12 six-inch guns in casemates, and with two 21-inch submerged torpedo tubes.

Vera Cruz, Dec. 15.—Firing had ceased this morning in the vicinity of Tampico, the rebels having retired evidently to avoid the continuous cannonade of the Federal gunboats. This was the report sent here by wireless today from Rear Admiral Frank F. Fletcher, commander of the American war vessels in the Gulf of Mexico. The distance to which the rebels had withdrawn was not stated.

Military men here regard it as probable that the rebels discontinued firing on the outskirts of Tampico pending the arrival of artillery.

FIGHTING CEASED
SUNDAY MORNING;
REBELS RETIRING

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Mexico City, Dec. 15.—The rebels in the battle between Federal troops and the Constitutionalists for the possession of the seaport of Tampico, loss is estimated at 1,000 men, according to a telegram received today at the ministry of the interior from the governor of the state of Tamaulipas.

The last shot in the battle was fired at 10 o'clock on Sunday morning when the rebels retired, according to the official report given out at the war office today. Federal cavalry then pursued the retreating rebels for some distance, afterwards returning to Tampico and reporting that the rebels had dispersed, some of them going toward Victoria and others in the direction of Tula in the state of Tamaulipas. The rebels were demoralized and short of ammunition, the official report said.

The war department is of the opinion that Tampico is safe against further attacks and with this assurance an active campaign is to be begun by the Federals in the region about Torreon. It was announced today that an effort to retake Durango, which has been long in the possession of the rebels is to be made at once. The recapture of Durango was the object of the ill-fated expedition, the destruction of which by the rebels precipitated the fall of Torreon several months ago.

Telegrams from Torreon today indicate that the local authorities deposed by the rebels have been restored to office and the public service is being reorganized.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Dec. 15.—The latest message from Admiral Fletcher was summarized in the following statement made public by the navy department:

"A despatch from Admiral Fletcher on board the Tacoma, dated 3 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 13, advises that the Constitutionalists have shut off the water supply of the city.

"At 10 p. m. he advised that H. M. S. Hermione, was in the river carrying the flag of Rear Admiral Craddock.

"Writing at noon on Dec. 14, Admiral Fletcher advises that conditions have not changed and that the Ward liner Morro Castle has arrived. There is a north wind blowing and until the weather moderates it will not be possible to transfer refugees to the steamer. He advises that the Constitutionalists have withdrawn from the immediate vicinity of Tampico.

"At 1 a. m. Dec. 15, Admiral Fletcher advises that conditions have not changed since he sent his last dispatch."

The attack on Tampico has failed and the rebel forces have been forced to withdraw some distance from the city.

The bombardment by Federal gunboats and field artillery routed the rebels, who left a number of their dead behind.

In possession of the railroad yards throughout the battle, the rebels, when they were driven off, remained sufficiently cool in the face of the furious fire to take away with them every locomotive and most of the rolling stock.

That the rebel loss was very great is emphasized by the fact that buzzards which inhabit the Mexican coast, and which for generations have been protected by law, Sunday floated over the battle fields in numbers so great as to present the appearance of low-lying black clouds.

According to the Federal report

500 rebels were killed before they could get out of range, and this would (Continued on page 16, col. 3)

Government Sending Guns to Isthmus of Panama for Fortification of the Canal

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, Dec. 15.—The steamer Christobel, operated by a government steamship company between New York and Panama, left port today, heavily loaded with the first of the big guns to be sent to the Isthmus for the fortification of the canal. She carried 14 large mortars, whose carriages are already in place at the Atlantic and Pacific entrances of the canal. Within two weeks, the guns will be mounted and ready for use. A detachment of coast artillerymen sailed with the guns today on the Christobel.

The largest gun in the Panama fortification will be a 16-inch rifle which will be installed at the Pacific entrance. It will be carried by the Christobel on her next trip, about the middle of January. In addition to the forts at the entrance of the canal, inland defenses will be constructed along the shores of the canal. The headquarters for the Army, Navy and Marine corps on the Isthmus will be at the Pacific entrance of the canal, but several posts will be maintained elsewhere, including the Atlantic entrance, the locks, probably at some point along Culebra cut and at Gatun Dam, the most vulnerable spot on the canal.

If You Would Only Help a Little

If everybody would only help a little what a tremendous success Newark's Christmas tree will be. More money means more happiness to more people.

Newark needs a Municipal Christmas tree. What city does not? There's an awful lot of selfishness that a Christmas tree on the public square will turn into generosity: so much narrowness that it will change into a broad and sensible regard for the unfortunate and unhappy. Envy, hatred and malice will fall before the twinkling lights of a Municipal Christmas tree. Every tiny light, sprig of holly, strand of unmel and glittering bell will send out a message of "Good Cheer," "Good Will" and "Hope" to the people of Newark.

Think of the lonesome, unfriendly human beings who will be warmed and cheered into happy Christmas companions: of the despairing souls that will be given a new lease on life by this wonderful Christmas greeting from an entire city. Even if you don't believe in making people happy, and even if you haven't enough of the true Christmas spirit to send your little mite to help Newark's Christmas tree render this great service to humanity, remember that this "Tree of Good Will" is sending you a "Merry Christmas just the same."

Forget yourself and think of others for once, and find out how it feels to have that genuine Christmas spirit stirring around in your heart.

It will be a whole year before Christmas comes again—a whole year before you will again have such an opportunity to do a kind deed like this for all humanity. Your contribution, 25 cents, or as many dollars as you like, will be accepted at The Advocate office. Remember all money received in excess of the amount needed for the tree will be used to spread Christmas cheer among Newark children.

Supreme Court to Pass on the Constitutionality of the Liquor License Law

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Columbus, Dec. 15.—Suit to enjoin the Lucas county liquor license law, filed by attorneys for the defense to himself and all other saloonkeepers who were refused licenses, today was filed in the supreme court by Joseph Meyer of Toledo. Meyer is represented by Attorneys Allen J. Seny, P. J. Picolan and Frank Boyer, who, on behalf of their client allege that the license law is unconstitutional.

Meyer filed suit in the Lucas county common pleas court asking the license committee be com-joined from refusing to issue licenses conceded. Attorneys for the defense filed a demurrer to the petition and this was sustained by the court. The case then was carried to the court of appeals where the demurrer was sustained. The supreme court is the case.

Belief was expressed today that

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat and take a glass of Salts to flush out kidneys—Drink plenty water.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps at lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush out the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad. Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Some men never have time to spend money because they are kept too busy making it.

SNAKE MAKES FRIENDS WITH BENEFACITOR

The latest snake story of the fast waning season is attributed to Col. W. C. Wells. The genial Colonel was putting in a few hours in improving his lawn a few days ago when he came across a garter snake of about eighteen inches curled up on the walk. The snake was evidently suffering from the recent cold spell and Col. Wells being of a tender hearted disposition picked it up and carried it into the house where he soon revived it with the warmth of a gas range. After it had wriggled its thanks he carried it back to the walk and it crawled into a hole where it evidently will hibernate for the winter. Now on sunny days his snakeship makes his appearance whenever he hears the footsteps of Colonel Wells approach. It will leave its underground home and crawl out to the feet of its benefactor and enjoy a little social visit. The remarkable part of it all is that as soon as a stranger approaches it will quickly crawl away.

BURGLARS MAKE GOOD HAUL AT GENERAL STORE

Local police officers have been notified of the burglary of the Pataskala Merchandise company's store at Pataskala last Friday night. The burglars succeeded in getting away with merchandise valued at more than $100. Among the articles reported stolen were a Duerber Hampden watch with gold filled case, three silver watches with Elgin movements, two watch fobs, two auto-stop razors, one set silver table spoons, two rain coats, two hats, two pocketbooks two pair shoes, two pair boots and two shaving brushes. The fact that the articles were stolen in pairs leads to the belief that two burglars operated and that they selected only the articles that they felt were needed. The company has offered a reward of $25 for the arrest of the burglars.

FAMILY FIGHT LANDS WIFE IN THE SANITARIUM

Mrs. Charles Rice is lying at the Newark Sanitarium suffering from a dislocated arm and numerous bruises as a result of a fight at the home in East Newark Sunday night about 7 o'clock. Police officers were called to quell the disturbance and upon the wife's complaint, Rice was locked up and his wife sent to the Sanitarium in an ambulance. Her injuries are not regarded as dangerous. Rice will be held until the woman is able to file charges against him. No reason was assigned by either the man or the woman to explain the fight other than that they had quarreled.

HAWKS CARRIED OFF CHICKENS BY WHOLESALE

Residents in the vicinity of the W. L. Showman and Burton Case farms, near Granville, have lost hundreds of chickens and turkeys the past summer and fall because of the activities of a trio of monster hawks. Showman and Case have just succeeded in killing the bigger of the three, after weeks of watching and waiting. The big fowl measured 38 inches from tip to tip of his extended wings, and was capable of carrying off half-grown turkeys.

CENTRALIZATION SCHOOL QUESTION TO BE VOTED ON

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, Dec. 15.—Following the defeat of the bond issue for a centralized model school in Shawnee township, Allen county, last week, the state educational department today turned its attention to Madison township, Pickaway county, where the question of centralization is the subject of an affirmative bond issue. The affirmative bond will be issued by the township already has a centralized high school of the first grade and eight grammar schools. It is a rich farming community in the northeast corner of the county. Advocates of the plan are arguing to citizens that the township centralization school will draw teachers from all parts of the state to meet in a model if the proposition is affirmed.

WEEK OF PRAYER FOR ADVENTISTS

Saturday, December 13, began the "Week of Prayer" at the Adventist church on North Sixth street. The Sabbath services in the forenoon were conducted by the local officers and afternoon services by the president of the state conference. In these services a paper is read by the officers or members which has been prepared by the leading men of the denomination. The papers cover the principal points of the advent "Message" and the progress of the missionary endeavor of the denomination, and a call to more earnest personal living and work. The services Sunday pointed out very clearly that we are living in the period called "time of the end," and that we "look for and hasten the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ." The services will continue all this week. Two meetings each day will be held one at 10 a. m. and the other at 7 p. m. The children's exercises will be held at the beginning of the evening meeting lasting about 15 minutes. Let all the members of the church attend both services each day this week and make this a time of refreshing. Bring all the children to the evening meeting and let them get good from the services also. Those who are not members of the church are very cordially invited to these services.

TO OPERATE SALOON IN FALLSBURG

Licking County Liquor Licensing commissioners Monday granted the license privilege to Walter R. Preston to operate a saloon in Fallsburg. The required 10 days following Preston's application expired Saturday. Preston was one of the applicants for license in Newark. His application was rejected, said the commissioners Monday, only for the reason that the quota for Newark was filled, in order of preference, before he was reached. Preston announced Monday that he will open business in Fallsburg as soon as his license arrives from the state board in Columbus. He will be the only saloon in Fallsburg township. He lives at 198 Maholm street, but will move to Fallsburg in the very near future. Fallsburg township is entitled to only one saloon, according to the finding of the state licensing board, and Preston was the only applicant for the opening. So far as is known there never was a saloon in the township.

CITY MISSIONARY MAKES AN APPEAL FOR DONATIONS

A Christmas dinner for the worthy poor is being planned by Mrs. Rosenberger, "city missionary," to be given in Mercy Home, 124 Jackson street, on Christmas day. An effort is being made to have donors present their gifts to the home before Christmas day to avoid confusion. The gifts will be distributed on that day, however. An appeal is sent out for coal for the Mercy home, also for loan or donation of fifty plates, fifty knives and forks and small spoons, thirty cups, twenty-four large spoons, and bedding for the homes.

ROCKEFELLER TO SPEND CHRISTMAS AT FOREST HILL

(Associated Press Telegram) Cleveland, Dec. 15.—John D. Rockefeller will spend the coming Christmas and New Years at his Forest Hill home here. It will be the first time in 15 years that he has spent the holiday season in Cleveland. Usually the Rockefellers are established at their Po Antonio Hills, N. Y., estate considerably in advance of Christmas. Illness of Mrs. Rockefeller and her sister and constant companion, Miss Lucy Spelman, leads to the unusual stay here. The oil king is in his usual good health.

While the horse market has been affected by the intrusions of the automobile, the mule market last year was better than ever.

ADMINISTERED ARNICA TO BOY FOR MEDICINE

Christian Toney, age 10, who makes his home with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Toney in Buckingham street, narrowly escaped death Sunday evening, when the grandmother, in endeavoring to administer a dose of medicine got the wrong bottle and gave the child a dose of arnica. The lad had complained of feeling ill during the evening and just before retiring Mrs. Toney administered a dose of medicine. But she mistook the bottle and administered arnica. The child was thrown into convulsions and for a time his life was despaired of. Dr. W. L. Jackson was called and worked for several hours before the boy was considered out of danger. The grandmother was infuriated by the shock. No fatal results are anticipated, although the boy is very weak today.

FIRE BROUGHT TO DEPARTMENT; CAR WAS BURNING

A west bound city car was filled with smoke and the odor of burning electrical apparatus Saturday night about 9:30 o'clock when something went wrong with the circuit breaker in the vestibule. The woodwork over the apparatus took fire. The car was just passing the square. It was hurriedly run to fire headquarters in Fourth street where a bucket of water soon extinguished the flames. There was little damage other than a scorching of the paint. The passengers on the car grew nervous but there was no panic.

ALLEGES HER HUSBAND LOVES ANOTHER WOMAN

Divorce Petition Also States That He Was Cruel and Drove Her From Home—Court-house News.

Charging that her husband frequently struck and beat her and that he drove her from home in her night clothes, Josephine Ponsart, who informs the court she is the owner of the Ohio Produce company, at 79 West Main street, filed suit for divorce in common pleas court Monday. On the petition prepared by Attorney Joseph W. Horner, Mrs. Ponsart was granted a temporary injunction by Probate Judge Hunter, restraining her husband from interfering with her or disposing of any of his interests pending settlement of her petition for alimony. Mrs. Ponsart charges that she and her eight-year-old daughter, Palmyra, were driven from the home last Thursday. The petition says they were married in March, 1904, and that recently her husband told her he did not care for her but cared more for another woman, whose name the plaintiff mentions in her petition.

TAKE TESTIMONY IN CASE OF FUEL COMPANY'S MEN

(Associated Press Telegram) San Francisco, Dec. 15.—Taking of testimony in the trial of eight officers and employees of the Western Fuel company charged with conspiring to defraud the government out of custom duties by false weighing of imported coal, began today in the United States district court before Judge M. J. Doolie. After M. J. Sullivan, special prosecutor for the government, has outlined his case, the books of the fuel company will be introduced and with the assistance of David R. Norcross, secretary of the concern, a foundation will be laid for the further education of evidence. The Western Fuel company's line of defense, it is understood, will be not only the impeachment of the government's witnesses, but the assertion that alleged short weights found in shipments were due to the evaporation of water-soaked coal.

CAPT. RODGERS HAS COMBINED TWO OFFICES

(Associated Press Telegram) Newport, R. I., Dec. 15.—The officers of command of the Narragansett Bay naval station and president of the war college were combined today, when Rear Admiral Austin M. Knight commanding the station, succeeded Captain Wm. L. Rodgers as head of the college. Captain Rodgers has been assigned to command the battleship Delaware of the Atlantic fleet.

Suicided After Shooting Hagerman

Mansfield, O., Dec. 15.—Charles Helman, 36, farmer, is dead and Addison Hagerman, 31, carpenter, is in a hospital here fatally wounded as the result of a strange shooting affair at the Helman home today. Hagerman and John C. Rist, another carpenter, were at work in Helman's home when Helman attacked them with a revolver, firing four times. Rist was unhurt. Helman then locked himself in an upstairs room and committed suicide. Police believe the deed was due to temporary derangement caused by Helman's brooding over a suit for divorce recently brought by his wife, who is now in Toledo. Hagerman has a wife and four children.

Minority Representation

James Boyle, in his last Republican news letter, is considerably wrought up lest Walter Brown has exercised or is about to exercise an undue influence over Governor Cox in the matter of making minority appointments. It is true that the Governor has preferred progressives above standpaters. It is natural for him to do so. At the same time Jimmie Boyle is the last fellow in the world who should kick. He was very close to the lamented McKinley; he was a prominent spoke in the republican wheel in the late nineties when all minority appointments went from republican officials to gold democrats, notwithstanding the fact that in the elections of 1896 the gold democrats carried but one precinct in the entire United States. In the elections of 1912 the progressives carried a number of states—big states—while the republicans carried but two very small unimportant ones. By every rule of partisan fair play which Mr. Boyle seeks to invoke Governor Cox is amply justified in recognizing the progressives and when republicans object they are gagging at their own machine.

Aside from this rule of partisan fair play, forgetting the fact that the progressives constitute a large majority of the opposition to the democrats and are entitled to be recognized, it is easy to understand that Governor Cox's sympathies lie with them. Against the standpaters. It is worthy of note that while Mr. Boyle was writing his protest against the appointment of progressives to place republicans covet, the news papers were proclaiming the fact that the naughty progressives had captured the Buckeye Republican Club, hitherto the citadel of standpatism in the capital city, and that hence forth that Club would advocate the principles and fight the battles of Theodore Roosevelt. This progressive Chairman Brown is a busy as well as an influential person. He may persuade Boyle and Harry Daugherty yet.

A Waste of Fuel

The advancing price of coal has been such of recent years as to lead to federal investigations, now under way. But not merely have the prices of coal kept increasing, also the old time standby, the wood pile, is not the cheap provider of winter comfort as of yore.

In large cities the prices asked for enough wood to feed a fire place or kitchen stove are frequently prohibitive. In rural sections the forest rather than the coal mine is often the main dependence for fuel. In many villages prices are being paid that represent a big advance in cost of living.

The fuel wood supply of this country has been scandalously wasted. Lax regulation and public carelessness has permitted forest fires to sweep off in a day, the supplies of a town for a generation. In cutting, isolated wood piles are often forgotten and left to rot on the ground. Every vestige of a tree is swept off. If young trees could but be spared, another crop would be ready for marketing in about half the time it now takes to grow a forest.

The American people have no conception of the thrifty, prudent way in which in other lands the supplies of wood fuel are utilized and husbanded. The gathering of "fagots" seems to be a regular trade, and every scrap of dead wood in the forest is utilized. In many sections of Europe certain kinds of trees seem merely like tassels on the tops of poles. The lower limbs

The Winners.
Most of the big strong men you know were just plain boys in the long ago; nine, I estimate, out of ten, were poor as any of you boys, then. They had their joys and they had their woes, they stole their melons and stubbed their toes; they had their faults, as I must confess, but one of them never was laziness. Whatever they did they did with zest; when playing their games they beat the rest; and when they found there was work at hand, they bent and labored to beat the band. And that is the secret of men who rise; some are not gifted, some are not wise, and some are hobbled and handicapped far more than fellows who now are strapped. You have no chance? Well, no more had they when setting forth on the world's rough way; they made their chances and pushed along, nor stopped to argue that things are wrong. And now they're honored; their handsome girls are getting ready to marry ears, their homes are stationed in handsome grounds, they have their yachts and they ride to hounds. While you, the victim of circumstance, are still insisting you have no chance.

Wisdom from Washington

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington, Dec. 15.—[Special.]—A majority of the senate can pass any bill it determines to put through. Sometimes it takes nerve and force, but if the majority will stand firm it can win. That is why cloture does not get much support. Any minority that would undertake to talk a tariff or currency bill to death would not receive popular support.

The Democrats showed courage in forcing long sessions to put through the currency bill. Nothing like it has been known in the senate at such an early period of the proceedings, and, what is more, no one seems to get any sympathy in crying out against the meeting hour at 10 o'clock and the night sessions until 11 in the evening. The country is perfectly satisfied to have the senate work.

The Dome Frieze.
The frieze, giving historical events of the new world, which partially surrounds the dome of the capitol, has been uncompleted for more than half a century. The civil war was the last great epoch which was suitable for the remaining picture, but it was never adopted because it could not be put in without offense to southerners. The frieze begins with the landing of Columbus, and the last picture is the discovery of gold in California. The gap can be filled with a picture of the completion of the Panama canal.

Brief Biographies.
Short biographies seem to be popular in the house of representatives, as 117 members have limited themselves to seven lines or less in the Congressional Directory. Only seven senators limit themselves to seven lines or less. Lindbergh of Minnesota and Wingo of Arkansas occupy but one line each, but Lindbergh's line is the shorter. Two lines suffice for Donovan, Conn.; Clark, Fla.; McAndrews, Ill.; Pepper and Woods, Ia.; Hamilton and S. W. Smith, Mich.; Hensler, Mo.; Whitacre.

WHAT IS IT?

O.; Ragsdale, S. C., and Buchanan, Tex.

Three lines tell the story of Minority Leader Mann, Ill.; also Rogers, Mass.; Shackelford, Mo.; Stevens, N. H., and Volstead, Minn.

Those who require but four lines are Hardwick, Ga.; Gorman and McDermott, Ill.; Hamlin, Mo.; Tuttle, N. J.; Fairchild and Driscoll, N. Y.; Kelly, Pa.; Sells, Tenn., and Jones, Va. Jones has the second longest service in the house, being now in his twenty-fourth year.

The senators coming under seven lines are Bryan, Fla.; Borah, Ida.; Kenyon, Ia.; Martine and Hughes, N. J.; O'Gorman, N. Y., and Jones, Wash.

"Parliamentary Lawyers."
Whenever an effort is made to arrange for taking up a bill in the senate there is more talk about precedents, rules, parliamentary practice, etc., than would fill a small volume. On one occasion a bill which Senator Chamberlain wanted considered was the subject of the discussion, and after a long wrangle the Oregon senator remarked, "It seems to me that if we could get rid of some of our great parliamentary lawyers here and get down to a prompt disposition of business there would be no trouble about arranging for this and other measures without consuming time which belongs to the people in our wrangles."

Underwood's Power.
An omnibus claims bill was being considered in the house, and all propositions save of a certain character were excluded. Finally Leader Underwood proposed an amendment, and it went through. Minority Leader Mann made a strenuous fight, declaring that it was put in because Underwood had the power and the Democrats of the house did not dare deny him his wish, although it violated a general understanding in relation to claims. But Underwood won, showing his power and popularity in the house.

Ashurst's Suggestion.
One day when the senate was going through all the agonies of adjusting legislation to the unanimous consent basis Senator Ashurst of Arizona remarked, "I do not care how we proceed, provided it is in a constitutional manner, so long as we abandon periphrasis, circumlocution and the how-not-to-do-it manner in which we have been proceeding."

But Ashurst will be no more successful in this reform than he was in the other when he tried to get the senate to stop "pinkponging from Monday to Thursday and from Thursday to Monday." Ashurst is not yet long enough in the senate to understand why the senate prefers to take such adjournments week after week as it did during the fall and then begin crowding on steam and meeting at 10 in the morning and working until 11 at night.

It is said that 30,000,000 broom handles are used annually in the United States—one for each man, woman and child.

Memories of twenty years ago were vividly brought to the minds of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Adams of Granville road, Friday evening, when a goodly number of the members of the Harmonious club and their husbands, gave them an old fashioned "belling" upon the return of Mr. Adams from Chicago, where he has been for the past month, as an Ohio representative to the National Land show.

Tin horns, dish pans, tin cans, &c., so disturbed the inmates for a time that a visitor made his escape through the cellar and like a streak of light down the path into the fields beyond. In justice to Mr. Adams it must be said he remained at his post, while his good spouse was found after a careful search somewhere near the attic, and brought down to the waiting company. After recovering from the awful fright she experienced the company was highly entertained and served with light refreshments.

At her apartments in the Orpheum building Mrs. Fred Richards delightfully entertained the members of the Photoretan club on Saturday afternoon. The following program was given from the calendar:

"Caring for Unfortunates."
Roll Call.
House of Correction—Grace Davis.
Public Institutions for the Afflicted—Alice McMahon.
Safe-Guarding the Immigrant—Ada Simms.

Associated Charities—Mrs. Mary Miller, probation officer.
The members were taken to the First Presbyterian church by the hostess for supper.

Miss Grace Corby at her home in Buena Vista street delightfully entertained the members of the Research club on Saturday. The following program was given from the calendar:

Roll Call, Some Bible Characters—Mrs. Kilpatrick.
Beauty Crowned—Miss Mabel Pugh.
The Story of Mary and Joseph—Mrs. Hawkins.

Critic—Miss Haughey.
Report of Educational Congress—Mrs. E. S. Randolph.

The guests of the club were: Mrs. Clyde Marshall, Misses Mary Larason, Florence Hart, Margaret Lisey.

The members and friends of Plymouth church on last Tuesday, pleasantly surprised Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Holloway at their home in North Fourth street by calling on them during the afternoon and evening. The occasion was their twenty-second wedding anniversary. The Pastor and his wife proved themselves equal to the occasion, and light refreshments were served during the hour.

Miss Berse Tafel of North Sixth street entertained with a Thimble party Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss May Stiner of Cumberland, Md.

The entertaining hostess for the members of the Review Club on Saturday afternoon was Miss Ida Weigand of West Church street. The following program had been arranged for the meeting:

Quotations—Annie G. Hatch.
Impressionists and Outdoor Painters—Alice F. Miller.
A Group of Modern Painters—Cora Kellenberger.

A Study in Textiles—Bertha D. Nye.

I. W. W. LEADER IS PUT ON TRIAL

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paterson, N. J., Dec. 13.—Carlo Treves, the Industrial Workers of the World leader who came from New York last spring to help the silk mill strikers, was put on trial here today for inciting his followers to violence. He is charged with using incendiary language in strikers' mass meetings on April 17. Most of the witnesses against him were police officers.

Like Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, his companion, Treves was tried before a jury from outside the county. He contended that he could not get justice from a local jury. Miss Flynn was tried on a similar charge and in her case the jury disagreed.

WERE THE MEN MEMBERS OF THE "NEEDLE" GANG?

The police on Sunday were informed that two young men, claiming Columbus as their home, were suspected of being members of the now famous "needle gang" which is working successfully in many of the larger cities. An effort was made to arrest them but they eluded the police and boarded an east bound train.

The two, well dressed, stopped at a local hotel. One of the employees of the hostelry overheard a conversation and saw them make a display of a "dope" outfit. They also carried blackjacks. On entering the hotel the pair had declared it was imperative that they get to Wheeling as soon as possible. The police were called but before they reached the station the eastbound train had pulled out with the two men. Zanesville police officials were informed and furnished with a description of the men but a search of the train failed to locate them.

Police Chief Sheridan takes little stock in the story that the men were members of the "needle gang." He places the men in the class of practical jokers and does not believe that they would openly display the hypodermic needles, particularly since so much publicity has been given this newest form of crime.

"NO SLEEP STRIKE" INAUGURATED BY THE MILITANTS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Dec. 13.—The suffragette arson squad today set fire to a lumber yard at Devonport and destroyed property worth over $400,000.

The lumberyards and considerable adjoining property were fire swept before the blaze was under control. Quantities of suffragette literature and placards bearing the words "revenge for the arrest of Mrs. Pankhurst" were found scattered about.

The scene of the fire is the spot where "General" Flora Drummond and other militants awaited Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst on her arrival in England from the United States on December 4, when the suffragette leader was arrested.

Miss Sylvia Pankhurst will be released from Holloway jail this evening.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Dec. 13.—Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, the militant suffragette agitator, since her arrest on Dec. 10, has adopted the more drastic method of adding a "no sleep" strike to her "hunger and thirst" strike, in order to force the prison authorities to release her. She accomplishes this by walking continuously. Her condition is already aggravated and her friends expect her release shortly.

The police, however, plan to keep both Miss Pankhurst and her mother in jail until after today's weekly meeting of the women's social and political union.

In the meantime the militants continue their violent tactics. An arson squad last night burned down an empty mansion near Bristol. Another party broke every window in the Richmond police station.

Miss Zelle Emerson, the American suffragette, was brought up at the police court today, charged with disturbing the peace last evening in the Bow District of the East End of London. She appeared in the prisoners' enclosure with one arm in a sling. It has been badly wrenched in the scuffle with the police.

The police testified that Miss Emerson had smashed a policeman's helmet with the pole of a banner she was carrying. The magistrate remanded her for a week on bail after she had promised to keep the peace until the conclusion of the case.

CONSIDER THE LILIES

Significance of the Great Teacher's Parabolic Discourse.

THE MASTER INTERPRETED.

Lessons From the Sparrows—Lessons From the Lilies—Lessons of Divine, Providential Care—Lessons For the World—Lessons For the Church. Lessons in Patience—Lessons in Hope—Lessons in Contentment.

New York, Dec. 14.—Pastor Russell spoke in the Temple today from the text, "And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin; and yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which today is, and tomorrow is cast into the oven (as fuel), shall He not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?" (Matthew 6:28-30.)

Pastor Russell said in part: The great Teacher, who is told, taught in parables and in dark sayings (not easily comprehended). Even our Lord's disciples were in the dark concerning the meaning of many of His statements until the Holy Spirit at Pentecost gave them enlightenment, as Jesus had promised. This being true, we are not surprised that many have misapprehended some of the Master's dark sayings respecting the cutting off of a hand or a foot, the plucking out of an eye, respecting undying worms and quenchless fires, and even in respect to the text of today.

There are people of fair intelligence who interpret the Master to mean that His followers are not to labor as do the remainder of mankind for the necessities of life; that they should expect to be supported by others who do labor with sweat of face—that they should be maintained by tithes, collections, etc., and toil and spin not at all. We believe that such are making a great mistake, as did the man recently reported in the press as having cut off his hand in what he thought was obedience to the Master's instruction. We can sympathize with these errors of judgment, but should avoid them and seek to have the spirit of the Master's teaching, which was always the spirit of a sound mind.

In His discourse Jesus had called the attention of His hearers to the fact that the Gentiles—the heathen—were continually thinking about their temporalities and praying about these: "What shall we eat? What shall we drink? Wherewithal shall we be clothed?" But your Father knoweth what things ye have need of before ye ask Him." Let your worry, therefore, if you have worries, be for something higher and nobler than merely the necessities of life. Consider that while you were once aliens and strangers through sin, disobedience to the Divine Law, you have now been brought back into accord with God and are privileged to address Him in prayer, "Our Father, which art in Heaven."

If we have the faith to believe that God through Christ has accepted us as His children, we should as children trust our Parent in respect to all the affairs of life—great and small—food and raiment—everything. But here comes the important point—the crucial test. Are we the children of God? Is He our Heavenly Father? Has He begotten us of the Holy Spirit? Are our sins forgiven? Are we reconciled to God through the death of His Son? Are we children—"and if children, then heirs of God and joint-heirs with Jesus Christ" our Lord?

Upon the answers to these questions lies the affirmative is the strength of the basis of all our faith and hope. If we are not God's children, if we have not come in His appointed way, through Christ, then we are still aliens and strangers. Then our affairs are not under His supervision; but we are with the world sharers in the sentence of death, each doing for himself according to his ability in battling against death, and, like all Gentiles, giving our chief concern to food, raiment and hollow earthly ambitions—knowing not, appreciating not, the higher, the Heavenly, privileges in Christ.

The Heart of the Lesson. We perceive then that the lesson is not for the world in general, except indirectly. The world, learning that these words are applicable only to the consecrated people of God, might properly be desirous that they might apply also to themselves. And if they are thus desirous of having God for their Father and His providential care in all of their affairs, the lesson to them would be that they should come into relationship with God through Christ, that they should become His children, in order to enjoy the privileges and favors which belong to none others at the present time.

The heart of the lesson is that the Heavenly Father is most gracious; and that His tender mercies are over all His creatures who are in harmony with Him. We may be sure that amongst all the Heavenly host there is neither hunger nor want, neither suffering nor pain, nor any disadvantage whatever. Their Heavenly Father knoweth what things they need, and provides bountifully for them. The Church is to learn this same lesson and to joyfully work by faith, enjoying full confidence and trust in Him who loved us and bought us with His precious blood of His Son.

These children of God need not feel harassed respecting life's experiences. They have a Heavenly Father, and He knows their needs better than they do, and is both able and willing to give what is best for them. And if their experiences in the family of God shall bring them less prosperity and more adversity, more trials, more difficulties, and necessitate more economies than before they became His children, they are instructed that, walking by faith and not by sight, they shall firmly trust Him, come what may.

Learning Lessons of Faith. All who can lay claim to being children of God by faith can surely believe that He who is able to provide for the birds and the lilies is no less able and no less willing to provide for those who have become His children through Christ—those for whom He gave His Only Begotten Son. Would He redeem them with that precious sacrifice and then have no care for their future welfare? Would He begot children with His Holy Spirit and then be negligent in providing for their necessities? Nay! God will not overlook the interests of His consecrated children, and whatever may seem to be an oversight and lack of provision is to be understood to be in reality the reverse—that which the Heavenly Father sees to be for their highest and best interests.

"So Clothe the Grass." The Master called attention to the beauty of the lily. Much is discernible to the natural eye, and still more when we examine the perfection of the flower microscopically. Wonderful indeed is the raiment of the lily! Solomon in all his glory had no such seamless robe, and no such perfect texture for his raiment.

Perhaps the Master had a deeper thought respecting raiment than appears on the surface by His words. "Shall He not much more clothe you?" While He assuredly meant that we are to trust Heavenly provision for our natural clothing, it would appear that He may have meant a clothing for us as New Creatures—the spotless, seamless robe of Christ's righteousness, granted to us as a wedding garment, in the merit of which we have access to all the riches of God's grace in the present life and, if faithful, shall be granted an abundant entrance into His everlasting Kingdom.

"Take No Anxious Thought." God takes thought respecting the Divine plans and arrangements. Jesus thought out carefully the course He pursued; and He instructed those who were desirous of being His disciples to sit down and carefully count the cost. All these things show us that the Master would not have His followers thoughtless, living merely moment by moment, failing to make provision for the seasons, the weather, the table, etc.

What He meant, what the Greek text fully bears out, is that His followers should have no worry respecting temporalities. Having exercised thought, prudence, care, having done to the best of their judgment and ability, not slothfully, but energetically, they are to rest the matter, realizing that all their affairs are placed in the hands of the Heavenly Father through Christ, and that all the Heavenly powers are pledged to make all things work together for good to them, because they love God and have been called according to His purpose.

"Seek Ye Chiefly the Kingdom." While anxious care was not to be exercised respecting temporalities, great care was to be exercised in respect to anything appertaining to the Kingdom. The call of the Church is to membership in the great Kingdom of God, of which Christ is the Head, the Chief King; we may be under kings and under priests, associated with our Redeemer in His great Messianic work of a thousand years. It was to attain a share in that Kingdom that we made consecration of our lives, our wills, our all, to the Lord; and only through great tribulation can we enter that Kingdom. As God is pleased to see our restfulness respecting temporalities of life when He has agreed to provide for us according to His Wisdom and in response to our efforts, so He is pleased to see, on the contrary, our zeal, our perseverance, our almost worrying that the great prize of the Kingdom should not be lost by us.

The reason for wishing us to thus worry for the Kingdom, and not to worry for earthly things, is evident on reflection. To worry about earthly things would be to show a faithlessness and doubt in respect to God and His promised care. But our attaining the Kingdom or our failing to attain it is made dependent only on ourselves. God has already done His part. He has provided the Redeemer and the forgiveness of sins. He has opened up the way whereby we might return into His family. When we came unto Him through Jesus, He accepted us and gave us the begetting of the Spirit and, with it, a right to all the great and precious promises, and joint-heirship with Jesus on condition of our faithfulness.—Romans 8:17; 2 Peter 1:12.

Hence, to agonize for the Kingdom, to strive for the Kingdom, to run with patience, to fight a good fight, to endure hardness—all these expressions indicate the great zeal and earnestness necessary on the part of those who would be accounted conquerors—yea, "more than conquerors," through Him who loved us and bought us with His precious blood."

Is it any wonder that God should expect us to be very zealous in striving to attain the Kingdom? Would He give so great an honor to any who valued it lightly? Surely angels and cherubim would be glad to accept positions in the Kingdom if offered to them! But God has passed by the angels, and invited members of the fallen race, whose hearts have turned to Him, that they might become, not only justified, from their "sins," but sanctified through Christ and heirs of the Kingdom.

Is it any wonder that the Lord has provided that only through much tribulation shall any enter the Kingdom? Whoever is not willing to endure tribulation for the Kingdom's sake would thereby show that he had not the proper appreciation and that he is not worthy of it. If the Master endured even unto death, how could we expect that we might be joint-heirs with Him unless we possessed His spirit, His zeal? Thus the Lord tells us that all who will attain the Kingdom glories will be copies of His Son.

What Must We Endure? Here the question properly arises. What is to be endured, what kind of sufferings? And what is the real object of these sufferings? Why should God delight to make us suffer before he would give us a place in the Kingdom?

The Bible answers these questions satisfactorily. It admonishes that only by trials and difficulties can character be really developed; for character is not merely a preference for that which is good, but a fixed determination, a loyalty to that which is right. God seeketh such as have firm characters to be His children on the Divine plane—of the New Creation. He has a great work for them to do for the world of mankind; and unless their own characters were properly formed, crystallized, established, they would not be in proper condition to be the rulers, instructors and uplifters of the world. Then He has a future work for them to all eternity.

We can readily see that this class must demonstrate their loyalty beyond peradventure, must show their zeal for righteousness; as was written of our Savior, "Because Thou hast loved righteousness and hated iniquity, therefore God hath anointed Thee with the oil of gladness above Thy fellows." The fellows of Jesus are the members of His Body, His elect Church, of every nation and denomination. He is their Head.

The Character to Be Formed. The kind of character which God seeks in His people is that which is like His own. He seeks the fruits of the Holy Spirit: meekness, gentleness, patience, long suffering, brotherly kindness, love. "If these things be in you and abound, they will make you that ye shall be neither barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of the Lord, and thus an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting Kingdom of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.—2 Peter 1:8, 11.

The Cultivation of the Graces. If everything were perfect in our selves and surroundings, there would be no real opportunity for cultivating these fruits and graces of the Spirit—for developing and crystallizing character and for showing our zeal for right and opposition to wrong. God, therefore, has taken advantage of the existence of sin, and of imperfection in others and in ourselves, to use these for the cultivation of the graces in our hearts and the establishment of character in us.

For instance, if there were nothing to try our patience, how could we grow in patience? If, therefore, we feel that we need more patience and pray for it, let us expect the answer to come in an increase of trials and difficulties which would tend to increase patience in our hearts and lives. If we pray for more meekness, we should expect our prayers to be answered by adverse conditions tending to show us our weaknesses and make us more teachable, more humble.

our love, patience, brotherly kindness. And so by the cultivation of all these various parts of love, we are gradually growing into God-likeness of character, becoming copies of God's dear Son, who is the express image of the Father's person and His character-likeness; for God is Love!

These Things Shall Be Added. The realities with God's people are the spiritual, Heavenly things. For these they seek, hunger, thirst. To them the earthly things in comparison have no value; for these were consecrated, given up, at the very beginning of the Christian way. But although all earthly rights have been surrendered, and all their interests are Heavenly, yet the Lord's promise is that these who seek first the Kingdom shall have all other needed things added to them. God will care for their temporal as well as their Heavenly interests. And to His praise be it said that He generally gives them abundantly more than they could have asked or thought.

Bread and water are the only things guaranteed; but how often in the Christian's experiences many comforts and luxuries are added, even though not asked, and while he is seeking with all his heart the interests and blessings of the Kingdom! May these Heavenly things more and more be our portion! Let us look less and less at the temporary things, and with the eye of faith look more and more to the things not seen, which are eternal, and to the Church heavenly.—2 Corinthians 4:18.

"O for a faith that will not shrink,
Tho' pressed by every foe;
That will not tremble on the brink
Of any earthly woe."

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Don't stay gray! Nobody can tell when you darken gray, faded hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant. Agents Hall's Drug Store.

GREAT OHIO APPLE SHOW

America has seen many exhibits of the products of the soil, but one of the most notable that has ever been held will be the great show of Ohio-grown apples, that will be held in Cleveland January 20 to 23 next. This show will be under the auspices of the Ohio State Horticultural Society, but the convention committee of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce has taken charge of local arrangements and with the enthusiasm for which the Sixth City is justly famous, this show is rapidly rounding up into a great event.

It will be held in Central Armory, one of the largest buildings in the state. At the rate at which fruit is arriving in storage for the show it is now quite evident that all of the space will be occupied. The armory will be decorated in a most attractive manner, there will be fine music by one of the best bands in the country, and the amount of money that has been hung up will warrant every apple grower in sending his best fruit to this show. A prize won at such an exhibit will be a prize indeed, for it will be sure proof of the high quality of the fruit that takes it.

In connection with the show will be held the meetings of the State Horticultural Society. The show will be started off with a monster public meeting at which Governor Cox has promised to speak. The Ohio Agricultural Commission will also attend and it is assured that Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the famous authority on foods will attend and speak.

This will be a remarkable exhibit for Ohioans. Many do not know that some of the finest apples in the world are produced within the borders of the Buckeye state—that the finest apples in the world grow on Buckeye trees. But they do, and here they will be seen in all their glory. It will be an inspiration to prospective orchardists and a revelation to the great army of consumers of the world's finest fruit.

The premium list may be had by addressing F. H. Ballou, Newark, O. It may not be altogether superstition that prompts a man to refuse a loan on Friday.

39 PASSENGERS QUARANTINED IN A SMOKING CAR

Philadelphia, Dec. 13.—Thirty-nine passengers in the smoking car of a train which arrived here from Pittsburgh Sunday were quarantined until they had all been vaccinated by city physicians.

The door of the car was locked when the conductor was notified by telegraph that a passenger, who had left the train at Huntingdon, was suffering from smallpox.

GRANVILLE.

Granville, Dec. 13.—An Oriental sale is being held by Mrs. W. E. Hopkins of West Maple street. She has a large number of oriental fancies of excellent design that make very inviting Christmas gifts.

Mrs. David Owen and daughter Anna spent Friday with Mrs. Ed Wright of College street.

The Ohio Electric railway has a force of men at work regrading their right of way in Granville. Several car loads of gravel have been hauled into the village in the past week and the improved condition of the car tracks is evident.

Mrs. Robert Owens, who has been an invalid for a number of weeks, due to the injuries which she sustained in falling from a buggy, was able to call on a number of her friends Friday.

A number of the members of the Denison football team enjoyed a smoker Friday evening in the Beta Theta Pi fraternity house.

Prof. Victor Hoppe returned Saturday from Xenia where he gave a recital of "The Man From Home," before a large and appreciative audience.

FIRE DAMAGES COURTHOUSE.

Upper Sandusky, Dec. 13.—Interior decorations in the new $230,000 Wyandot county courthouse were badly damaged by smoke and water Sunday afternoon, after fire was discovered in one of the inner rooms. The fire, which is thought to have been due to spontaneous combustion, was confined to old papers and documents.

The educational buildings in the United States are valued at $225,000,000.

SUNDAY GETS 12,000 CONVERTS AND $15,665 CASH

Columbus, O., Dec. 13.—Rev. Billy Sunday's high-water mark for converts, reached here nearly a year ago, when 18,300 people hit the trail, still stands untouched at the end of his six weeks' campaign yesterday in Johnstown, Pa., where he has 12,000 conversions to his credit.

His collection for the campaign, amounting to $15,665, fell short of the $21,000 scored in Columbus. In the year since Rev. Mr. Sunday closed his revival here he has conducted campaigns in South Bend, Ind., Wilkesbarre, Pa., and Steubenville, but nowhere did his results reach the totals in Columbus. It is predicted, however, that records will be smashed in Pittsburgh, where the evangelist starts a campaign Dec. 25, just one day short of a year from the time he opened his guns in the tabernacle in Goodale street.

FUR AUCTION WILL BE HELD AT ST. LOUIS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
St. Louis, Dec. 13.—The first government fur auction ever held in the United States will take place here today. Scores of buyers from European and Canadian markets will attend the sale.

Japan, England and the United States have entered into an agreement to protect fur bearing animals. A limited number of seals and white and blue foxes, therefore, are permitted by the United States government to be killed in Alaska.

Heretofore, the skins from these animals were sent to London to be sold at auction and the finished products were returned to the United States. The department of commerce and labor recently ruled that seal and fox skins which were the property of the government should be sold in this country. Being the largest fur market in the United States, St. Louis was awarded the auction.

SAY BLINDNESS IS CAUSED BY FACE LOTIONS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Dec. 13.—The New York committee on the prevention of blindness sounds alarm today by the report that more than half of the cases of eye weakness among men of this city may be traced to the barbershops. It is alleged that bay rum and other face lotions used in some shops contain wood alcohol and that the inhalation of the fumes or drops of the liquids in the eyes caused serious trouble. There is already a law prohibiting the use of such lotions but the committee on blindness has found it to be rarely enforced.

The aid of the inspectors of the health department has been summoned in the crusade to be waged for enforcement of the laws.

Several barbers and proprietors of barber supply concerns were summoned for arraignment or such charges in the court of special sessions today following two convictions for similar offences obtained last week.

IMPORTATION OF MAMMALS IS ON THE INCREASE

Washington, Dec. 13.—Due to the many monkeys, guinea pigs and mice brought into the United States for experimental purposes, the importation of mammals has increased from fewer than 2000 five years ago to 17,272 last year, according to the report of Dr. Henry W. Henshaw, chief of the United States biological survey. He expresses the opinion that the "needed supply of guinea pigs and mice might be profitably bred in the United States."

Almost 400,000 canaries were imported into the country during the year out of a total of 494,636 birds and mammals which came in.

CHINESE WOULD OUST PRES. KAI

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
San Francisco, Dec. 13.—Five hundred members of the Chinese colony here met yesterday to take steps to finance a revolution to oust President Yuan Shi Kai of the Chinese republic from office. The meeting proclaimed that the president was trying to have himself declared emperor.

Ying Puh Hsiao of Canton, head of the Chinese National party, and personal representative of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, addressed the meeting. He declared the life of the republic depended on the removal of the president.

Place Wreaths on Washington's Tomb

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Dec. 13.—Three Masonic lodges with which George Washington was at various times connected, today placed in a ceremony to Mount Vernon and placed wreaths on his tomb in commemoration of the one hundred and fourteenth anniversary of his death. The anniversary really was yesterday, but it was decided to hold the services today.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANIES.

It may strike some people as peculiar that while we had sufficient gas in Sandusky, there was a great shortage down at Newark, where the city and company are fighting in the courts over a proposed increase of rates. The company, of course, claims that it cannot be held responsible because the demand is greater than the supply. Still some of us will suspect that were the rates satisfactory the company would be able to supply the gas. It is something to think about—this tremendous power of a public service corporation.—Sandusky Star-Journal.

WHITE SLAVERY CHARGED: FOUR ARRESTED

Some Can And Some Cannot Drink Coffee Without Dangerous Results--

But if you intend to win out in life you will need a clearer head and steadier nerves than the coffee drinker usually has.

Coffee contains caffeine, a subtle, poisonous drug, and its use as a daily routine beverage causes more or less disturbance of nerves, heart, stomach, liver or some other organ. This may not show for a time, but the coffee drug, caffeine (about 2 1/2 grains to the cup) is a cumulative poison and, for most persons, a day of reckoning will surely come.

But why wait until Nature drives home her arguments against coffee? Try this easy test—quit coffee 10 days and try POSTUM.

After a few days the habit-forming drug, caffeine, will be eliminated from the system, and the gradual return to old-time comfort will be the best evidence that coffee was "getting you."

There's no headache or pains of any kind in Postum. It is a pure food-drink, made only of choice wheat and a little New Orleans molasses, and is absolutely free from caffeine or any other drug.

Postum now comes in two forms. Regular Postum must be well boiled to bring out its delicious flavour and food value.

Instant Postum —(the new form) is a soluble powder. A spoonful stirred in a cup of hot water, with sugar and cream added, makes a perfect cup, instantly.

The person who has to bother with coffee aches and pains is badly handicapped, but it's easy to shift to

POSTUM

And the change works wonders—

"There's a Reason"

State Tax Commission Issues Orders for Appointing Assessors

Policy to Eliminate All Sinecures and Provide for Economy.

Columbus, Dec. 15.—Members of the state tax commission expect to be able to announce shortly figures on the cost of listing local property for taxation under the Warner law, which will show a considerable saving over what has been paid out for such work in the past. All the district assessors have been asked to submit to the state commission the name of each township in a county, the name of each incorporated village and its population, the number of deputy assessors which the district assessors deem necessary in each, the compensation recommended, together with the time the district officer thinks each deputy should be employed.

If more than one deputy assessor is requested for any township, explanation must be made of the reason for such extra assessor. On another sheet the district assessor has been asked to submit a detailed statement as to each clerk or employee, other than a deputy assessor, proposed to be employed, stating as to each the period of proposed employment, the exact nature of the duties to be performed and the compensation to be proposed.

The state commission is acting under the rule that there are to be no sinecures in the different counties as a result of the Warner law. Having in its possession all the evidence asked for, the commission will be able to pare down to absolute necessities all the estimates for allowances submitted by the district assessors and yet not cripple those administering the law.

Each district assessor will determine the territory to be assigned to each deputy assessor. And the state commission expects the district officers to use business sense in handling the subordinates.

CHERRY VALLEY SCHOOL VERY PROGRESSIVE

A meeting of the parents of the children attending the Cherry Valley school and the patrons of the school was held on Friday evening to hear the report of Mr. W. Fant, who attended the Survey Day convention held in Columbus.

The committees were present and much enthusiasm was shown in the report. The Cherry Valley school is one of the most progressive of the district schools and much interest is shown in it ranking first as an educational factor.

The committee and teachers of the school decided to hold a Christmas entertainment on the evening of December 22. Through the efforts of the school children an organ has been purchased of Mr. Francis, and a delightful program has been arranged. All those interested in the school are invited to attend.

Smithsonian Institution recognized the worth of his efforts in this direction by conferring upon him a Langley medal for his researches relating to the resistance of the air in connection with aviation.

The designer of the Eiffel tower studied engineering at the Paris Central School of Arts and Manufactures. He was only twenty-six when he designed the great iron bridge over the Garonne at Bordeaux. In the carrying out of this contract the compressed air method of sinking foundation cylinders was used for the first time in any important project. Eiffel's success with these caissons worked a revolution in building, and made him famous among engineers and architects the world over. Later he built the Garabit viaduct, the framework for Bartholdi's Statue of Liberty, the Grand vestibule and principal facade of the Paris Exposition of 1878, and other works in which he manifested remarkable engineering skill.

It was the huge framework of the Liberty statue that gave Eiffel the germ of the idea which he worked out in the gigantic iron tower on the Champs-Mars in Paris which was hailed as one of the great wonders of the modern world, and which made his name a household word among people of all classes in all civilized nations. Ever since Babel mankind has aspired to climb or fly upward, and the Eiffel Tower made an appeal to the imagination that was universal. A quarter of a century ago, when the tower was in process of construction, the name of Eiffel was on everybody's lips.

The tower was built as one of the features of the Paris exposition of 1889. The work was commenced in 1887, and was rushed to completion within the specified time. The structure, which rises to the height of 1,000 feet, was built of iron lattice-work, and 7,300 tons of metal were used in its construction. Three sets of elevators carry people to the top, where the structure is capped by an immense lantern. The cost of the tower was over a million dollars, the French government contributing $292,000. So great was the popular interest that the fees for 1889 repaid the outlay, and M. Eiffel made a fortune out of the twenty years' lease given him. Many uses have been developed for Eiffel Tower. Its importance from a meteorological point of view can scarcely be overestimated. It has enabled the weather experts to observe the variation of winds, to study the decrease of temperature at different heights, and the density of the clouds. Since the discovery of the wireless the tower has gained a new importance as a wireless station. That the French weather bureau service is the best in the world is due largely to the facilities afforded by Eiffel's monumental structure.

Eiffel Tower's nearest rival in height is the Woolworth Building in New York, which is 865 feet in height. Buenos Ayres, the South American metropolis, will soon have a tower, however, that will surpass Eiffel in height, size and cost, if present plans are carried out. As the pioneer among modern tower buildings, M. Eiffel is certain of imperishable fame, and his unfortunate connection with the Panama scandal of twenty years ago will be forgotten.

Human Procession

Gustave Eiffel, the celebrated French engineer who designed the tower for the Paris Exposition, the highest structure in the world, was born in Dijon, France, eighty-one years ago today. Of late years he has devoted most of his time to study of the problems connected with aerial navigation, and a few months ago the

GRIPPE PREVALENT

How to Regain Strength After a Severe Attack.

With so much gripple prevalent this winter a word of advice regarding its cause and treatment will not be out of place.

Gripple is an infectious disease easily taken when the system is in a tired or run-down condition.

The best means of prevention are to keep the blood in good healthy condition, and if the system gets into a weak, run-down condition, take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic.

A lady from Long Branch, N. J., says: "Gripple left me in a nervous, weakened, run-down condition. After taking three bottles of Vinol I am better and stronger than I have been for years, and I cheerfully recommend Vinol to all who have suffered from the gripple and need strength." (Name furnished on request.)

We have never sold in our store such a valuable strength creator and health restorer for the convalescent, the weak and run-down as Vinol, and your money will be returned if it does not do all we claim for it. Frank D. Hall, Druggist, Newark, Ohio.

1892—"Mysterious Billy" Smith stopped Danny Needham in 14 rounds at San Francisco. This was the first important bout for Smith, who later fought his way up to the welter-weight championship, being the first to hold that title. He was a down-East Yankee, but when he landed in San Francisco he permitted people to think that he was the son of a titled Englishman. Having started this rumor, he refused to confirm or deny it, hence the sobriquet "Mysterious."

After defeating Needham, Smith whipped Shadow Maber at Portland, Ore., and later, at Coney Island, copped the new welter division title by his victory of Tommy Williams, the Australian champion.

IS AGRICULTURE POPULAR?

A few years ago it was no uncommon thing for people to speak derisively of the boys attending the agricultural colleges. Even today there are scattered through the cities a few who are ill-informed as to the value and content of an agricultural education. When we glance over the personnel of the "Farmers" as they call them. When we glance over the personnel of the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University, some new impressions may be received. In contradiction to the belief of many, that only farmers attend the agricultural college, a careful census of the freshman boys for this year shows that only 56 per cent come from the farm.

The following shows the occupation of the fathers and the number in each class: Farmers, 224 or 56 per cent; artists, 5; bankers, 2; brewer, 1; car inspector, 1; carpenter, 3; chemist, 1; clerk, 2; coal and oil operators, 3; collector, 1; contractor, 6; civil service, 12; druggist, 4; engineer, 3; florist, 10; housekeeper, 1; huckster, 1; insurance, 3; jeweler, 2; lawyer, 5; lumber dealer, 2; liverman, 1; machinist, 4; photographer, 1; manufacturer, 16; merchant, 21; minister, 4; poultry, 2; printer, 2; physician, 14; railroad, 4; real estate, 2; reporter, 1; salesman, 7; stock dealer, 3; tailor, 1; teacher, 6; telephone business, 1. It will be noticed that 39 occupations other than farming are represented and some of them in considerable numbers.

The first great benefactor of the blind in America was Thomas H. Perkins, founder of the Perkins Institution for the Blind in Boston, who was born in the Massachusetts metropolis 149 years ago today, and died there in 1854. The building and grounds of the Perkins institution cost $150,000. Under the superintendency of Dr. S. C. Howe, the institution soon won a place among the world's foremost schools for the education of the sightless. The New York Institution for the Blind was founded at about the same time, and the Pennsylvania Institution at Philadelphia was opened in 1833. The world's pioneer institution for the care of the sightless was the Hospice des Quinze Vingts of Paris, opened by St. Louis in 1620. Diderot, the great encyclopedist, first formulated a plan for the instruction of the sightless and in 1784 the first school of its kind in the world was opened by Valentin Haüy, "the apostle of the blind." The success of the Paris school led to the establishment of similar schools in other countries, the first in Great Britain being opened in Liverpool in 1791.

County Commissioners Will View Holler Ditch Tuesday; Property Owners are Invited

County Commissioners and West Newark property owners will view the Holler ditch Tuesday morning, beginning at Decrow avenue and the railroad at 9 o'clock in the morning. It is the hope of the county officials as well as those city officials who have been interested in the improvement of this drainage system, that some sort of an amicable agreement can be reached, following this viewing, which will result in the adoption of working plans which will satisfy at least of a majority of the property owners affected by the improvement.

The Holler ditch controversy has been a problem to city and county officials for several years. The ditch has its origin in Newark township, west of the city and drains a vast territory, much of which lies within the city limits. According to the city engineer's records more than 400 pieces of city property are directly concerned in it.

The ditch is a relic of the earlier days. It was originally routed through what is now the western part of the city and its course followed the natural levels so that now it passes under many lots and in a number of cases is directly under dwelling houses so that there is a considerable portion of the ditch which is inaccessible for purposes of repair work.

The ditch has long since become inadequate for the volume of water it is called upon to carry away and this has been the source of much trouble and annoyance, besides causing much damage to property.

The matter was taken up by the present city council and after many conferences by committees the city engineer was instructed to make a survey and draw plans to relieve the situation.

The improvement was viewed Nov. 18 by the commissioners, but the day selected happened to develop a blizzard and when the party started out there were but two property owners present. Not more than twelve joined the commissioners during the trip over the route of the ditch.

The commissioners request that every property owner interested join the party Tuesday morning at Decrow avenue and the railroad and go over the ditch with them. It is hoped to get an expression from the property owners as to what is needed.

The reconstructed ditch will provide an outlet for storm sewers for that part of West Newark which lies south of Maholm street and West of Pine and Union streets. Until this improvement is made, it will be impractical to pave Williams and other streets in that part of the city. The estimate of cost for a 36-inch sewer is $60,000. This is the size determined upon by the city council. The city engineer has given an estimate of cost on a 36-inch sewer, his figures being $55,000. The 36-inch sewer will have two and a quarter times the capacity of the present 24-inch sewer and the proposed 54-inch sewer will have five times the capacity of the present sewer. The size to be constructed will be determined by the county commissioners upon the advice of the county surveyor.

The improvement as planned by the city engineer will drain all the territory involved and will do away with the annoyance, inconvenience and damage to property resulting from the storm water standing in the streets and on property in the "water shed" drained by the ditch. It is determined by the city that the improvement is one which benefits the entire West Side and as such it is regarded as highly important.

LOSS OF REBELS

mean many other hundreds wounded left behind.

It is regarded as probable that the relief of Tampico is only temporary, and that before many days the rebels will resume the attack in greater numbers, although the three days' battle has materially cut down their supply of ammunition. This may delay operations for a time.

The transfer of American refugees to the battleships during the incessant fighting was attended with considerable difficulty. Rear Admiral Fletcher's temporary flagship, the Tacoma, was run alongside the customs deck. The scout cruiser Chester proceeded one mile below.

The Admiral gave orders that all Americans should withdraw from the city. Even the German Consul abandoned his residence and went aboard the Kronprinzessin Cecilie. The British Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock took up his temporary headquarters on a merchant steamer at the dock.

The Mexican gunboat Bravo was at the bend of the river below the city firing westward over the town. The rebel General Candido Aguilar crossed below the Bravo from Tapan, with 2,000 men and heavy guns. He controlled the mouth of the river and attacked the Bravo from behind sweeping the gunboat's deck with rifle fire.

Shrapnel burst over the outskirts of the town and killed and wounded scores of civilians. Bodies could be seen hanging from telegraph poles.

The situation became so dangerous to noncombatants that Rear Admiral Fletcher decided to send the refugees to the battleships lying off Barra, five miles from the fighting zone.

RESPECTFUL TREATMENT OF FOREIGNERS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, Dec. 15.—Brigadier General Bliss, commanding the border patrol reported to the war department today that he had reason to believe that any losses to foreigners or damage to their property, caused by Villa's troops will be made good. General Bliss added that an agent, Felix Sommerfeld, to General Carranza had dispatched several Villa with dispatches directing respectful treatment of foreigners and if necessary would visit Villa himself.

Officials here turned their attention to reports of threats upon foreigners in Chihuahua City by Villa and expected to learn from American Consul Letcher details of what had taken place. Since Chihuahua was evacuated by the Federals, inasmuch as there has been difficulty in communicating by telegraph with Chihuahua City, American Consul Edwards at Juarez has sent a messenger by automobile to get details of events there from Consul Letcher. Until a report is received from the latter no formal comment is expected here.

SPECIAL PASSES NECESSARY TO PASS BORDER

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Ojinaga, Mex., Dec. 15.—Only Americans with special passes were permitted to cross into Mexico today because of the closing in of the Rebel forces and the prospect of an attack on General Mercado's 1,000 Federal troops garrisoned here. Whether the advance of the Rebels will result in an immediate battle or a prolonged siege is impossible to tell.

Ojinaga, in the opinion of military men, is virtually impregnable. The town, about which Federals have built strong fortifications is at the top of a plateau which rises abruptly 50 feet from surrounding ground. The river forms a half circle around it on the east and north while on the south rises a series of hills all of which may be commanded by artillery located on the plateau. There are three points from which an attack might be delivered. Two of these are so difficult to maneuver cavalry across that they would be useless as the Rebels will rely mainly on cavalry for the offense. The natural opening for an attack would be along the river bank to the southeast.

The importance of the ultimate result here lies in the fact that should the Federals win they then would be in a position to attempt to recapture Juarez, opposite El Paso, Texas. If the Rebels win General Mercado's forces either would have to surrender or cross into the United States.

SCHACHTEL HAS GOOD CHANCE TO MAKE RECOVERY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Columbus, Dec. 15.—Unless complications, set in, S. H. Schachtel Cleveland chemist and star football player on Ohio State team has a chance to recover from the effects of the bullet wound which he sustained in New Lexington last Friday when he was fired upon by Miss Mildred Johnson during a conference in the office of an attorney in that county seat village.

Information today from the hospital here where Schachtel became a patient on last Saturday was that he had not lost any ground since entering a ward in that institution. He is very low, however, and the attending physicians have refused to allow him to discuss the shooting or the causes that led up to it. Perry county officials are being kept posted on Schachtel's condition.

STATE SENDS PARTRIDGES TO LICKING CO.

In an effort to re-stock the hills and vales of Licking county with game birds which are rapidly disappearing, Chief Game Warden John C. Speaks of Columbus, will send to Newark 60 to 100 pairs of Hungarian partridges which will be distributed over the county.

This information was conveyed in a letter to Representative W. D. Fulton from Game Warden Speaks on Monday. When seen by the Advocate Mr. Fulton stated that he would refer the matter to the trustees of the various townships who will determine where the game birds will be turned loose.

The birds will arrive sometime between now and January 15 and as soon after their arrival as possible, they will be turned into the wilds of the Licking county hills. With a year's protection the birds should have reproduced until their offspring would number more than a 1,000.

FIRST VICTORY FOR ADMINISTRATION IN NEW CURRENCY BILL

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, Dec. 15.—By a vote of 40 to 35, the Senate today defeated the first attempt to alter the administration currency bill as framed by the Democratic caucus. The vote sent to the table the first amendment proposed by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, which would have fixed the number of regional banks in the new system at four, and would have made the regional banks publicly owned institutions.

ROBERT TAFT WINS FIRST HONORS IN BAR EXAMINATION

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Columbus, Dec. 15.—Robert Alphonso Taft, son of Former President Taft, carried off the honors of the class that took the state bar examination last week, obtaining a grade of 90.7, almost two points higher than the applicant who won second honors. In obtaining the highest grade, young Taft duplicates the achievement of his father, who won the highest honors of his class when he was admitted to the bar in Ohio years ago. Robert A. Taft is a graduate of Harvard law school.

He registered from Cincinnati, George S. Raup of Springfield, also a Harvard law school graduate, obtained the second highest grade, his average being 88.8. There were 91 applicants and 65 were successful. Those who passed will be sworn in as attorneys by the Supreme court Thursday morning.

Among the applicants who passed were H. H. Gillard, colored, who is messenger to Governor Cox; Leino W. Warden and Charles E. Nixon.
